

A circular plot containing numerous small, open circles representing nodes. The nodes are distributed randomly across the interior of the circle, with no apparent clustering or pattern, serving as a null model for network analysis.

SWC

